In Honor of
 Charlie McCarthy
 TRUEHEARTED

Salt-haired distinction
 manners and wit,
 extraordinary celerity
 dash and readiness,
 The Ocean Beach Marshal
 “Beautiful day!”
 “Look at that surf!”
 San Francisco’s own
 Gentlehomme.

1:37 p.m. 4/4/86

In Honor of
 An Ocean Beach Elder
 Ralph Basye
 SEEDLINGS

Ocean Beach rascal
 independent attendant
 on the borderline “there is something beyond.”

Now eighty-four
 yet ready for whatever more
 “I don’t worry,” laughing “that’s why I get in
 so much trouble,” looking around “everything changes
 and moves on . . .”

Quick-minded-vision
 sees real good like a printer should watches what others do “Hi! How ya doin’”
 birds, squirrels, people . . .
 gather around
 seeds, peanuts, words . . .
 treated all the same.

“Freedom is the Value
 to get out and around.”

5:05 p.m. 10/7/01

Merv O'Leary
THE METAPHYSICAL REBEL

Each day
every day . . .
Merv
pushes
the huge stone
up the hill
at Ocean Beach
determined to
push it to the top
only,
then,
. . . watches it
tumbling down
to know that he knows that it will go down
again, again and again . . .
the unending beginning, again.
Without asking questions
NO!
A brilliant light of passion
lights up
for those who reside in
idle immortality.
Amusingly
“they”
look and say:
WHY?
